LINGUISTIC WORK OUT 2011!

ENGLISH COMMUNICATION FOR EU YOUTH AND MOBILITY PROJECTS

June 12 – 18, 2011

Testimonials

This is the second edition of this course, which was chosen as a best practice example in 2010 Valorisation Fair for Youth in Action and Lifelong Learning Programmes.

2010 participants' opinions:

"I learnt a lot, my English has improved and I think I know more about international organisations" Participant from Italy.

"I have got a lot of information about Youth Programmes, writing a project and also learnt useful workshops" Participant from Sweden.

"We have made friends with people that have very good ideas. I'd like to work with them in the future" Participant from Spain.

"For sure I will tell people in my organisation what I have experienced in this course. I will try to write a project with the people I met here" Participant from Poland.

The LWO Concept

This training course is aimed at providing practical tools to improve your communication skills in English for international youth work within European youth mobility and lifelong learning programmes.

This course is designed for people who wish to gain confidence and get new tools to communicate in English based on their existing knowledge. This course is intended for participants with a beginners/intermediate level. (A1 –A2).

Youth workers

Objectives

1. To provide practical tools to “unblock” and improve English language skills.
2. To develop strategies to handle communications in international youth work.
3. To improve existing communication skills in English in order to develop international projects in the field of youth work and mobility.
4. To rehearse practical situations where English communication is required (presentations of jobs and tasks, presentations of organisations, project design and presentation, etc.)
5. To provide information and vocabulary about the EU youth and mobility programmes.
6. To develop English communication strategies to tackle cultural differences in order to facilitate understanding in intercultural and international environments.
7. To facilitate the building of long-lasting partnerships among participants’ organisations for future collaboration in projects.

Methodology

The methodology used in this training activity is based on non-formal education and it is fully functional and topic-related. The training course is aimed at encouraging communication among the participants through simulation activities and communication exercises.
